As your partner in dementia care, we're right by your side, every step of the way

Our promise at Kensington Place is to love and care for your family as we do our own. And we do. As specialists in all aspects of dementia, our programs of care and service are clinically comprehensive, highly personalized and tender.

We are skilled and prepared to address the predictable changes that come with each phase of progressive memory loss. To better meet resident needs, we offer two distinctive "neighborhoods"—Connections and Haven. In Connections, residents are able to actively participate in daily routines and activities that help them feel safe, secure and successful. In Haven, residents require a higher level of clinical assistance and care that increase comfort and reduce agitation. In both neighborhoods, support for caregivers and families is generous and ongoing, because after all, memory loss is a family affair.

Please let us share in your caregiving experience. We will make every effort to improve your loved one's quality of life to the greatest extent possible. We will also do our best to give you time to recharge – guilt-free – so you can freely enjoy the pleasure of togetherness.
